Brac is the gateway to Dalmatia - its culture, its islands, its cuisine... For centuries, people have been drawn to Brac for its artists, its stone work, its protected bays, its spectacular boating, its clear, clean water and its weather (they say the best in the whole Adriatic). The early farmers built paths criss-crossing the island, which are now great for hiking and biking. Today, Brac is being rediscovered...While you are here, visit family "Konobas" to sample the wine and olive oil in every village!
