Description

Sea Shell Villa is a light, airy villa situated in a pretty bay on the Peljesac Peninsula. It is a wonderful hideaway, one house back from the sea and a short wander from two lovely sea edge restaurants. Is there anything better than watching a spectacular sunset across a calm bay whilst sipping a glass of delicious local wine and listening to the sea lapping gently next to your table? The sheltered bay here attracts sailing boats and cruisers and has a very pretty harbour, as well as one of the most idyllic swimming spots you will find - the sea here is perfectly calm which makes this a perfect getaway spot for some relaxation!

The bay has around 5 restaurants altogether and being flat, it is easy to explore all around its shores – check out the beach at the centre of the bay and various quays perfect for sunbathing and swimming. If you wander around to the tip of the bay, you'll find plenty of fossils in the rock – you can even take a little boat out and have a picnic in your own little spot. If you want some gentle action, there are bikes and windsurfs to hire!

There are other villages a short drive away if that also make a lovely visit and the medieval town of Korcula is within easy striking distance. Snorkelling is lovely around the bay but there are also local snorkeling trips which are well worth a try which take you around some of the uninhabited local islands. There is even a World War 2 wreck not too far away if you are a keen diver!

Internally, the villa comprises 3 double bedrooms (2 upstairs and 1 down). A King sized sofa bed is also available in the living room. Both upstairs bedrooms both have balconies from which you can see the sea while the downstairs bedroom looks out onto the pretty courtyard garden. The property also boasts of a fantastic roof terrace but the private garden benefits from shade, especially in the evening when it is the perfect place to escape from the heat of the day.

Guest Reviews

I am writing to you following a wonderful week.... The villa was delightful and the village a real "gem" - quite unspoiled, with a lovely family atmosphere and was a real hit with our family...I always think it is important in this day and age when people are so ready to complain, that you also recognize where things have been particularly good, hence the reason I thought I would drop you this note to say just that!"
